

Release the rhythm (on line)

Javier Cortinas

NOV. 22nd.

FOR: musicians, dancers, actors/actresses, directors, teachers and professionals of performing arts and social work.

WORKSHOP: Rhythm is something that we can feel, that makes us dance, something that we can analyze and understand. The beat of 4/4 invades us and locks up our creativity. What happens if we internalize it and try to give different flavors, dances or colors? Looking for fluidity without abandoning attention.

JAVIER CORTINAS

He began his musical studies at age of 5. After attending the New York Summer Music Festival he entered the School of Creative Music to continue his studies as a jazz drummer with Carlos Carli. Experimentating with irregular bars and an interest in improvisation have always been present in his bands and in his current formations of traditional Mediterranean music (Saffron and Faluka).
